

Mrs Remona van der Zon
Director Sustainable Strategy
KLM Royal Dutch Airlines

In her role as Director Sustainable Strategy at KLM Royal Dutch Airlines, she is responsible for KLM's sustainability agenda and guiding KLM's transformation into a truly sustainable company.

Remona van der Zon is educated in Communication Science and Sustainable Development (MSc) and has a passion for travel, which of course fits perfectly with her current job.

As the Sustainability Office, they set sustainability ambitions for KLM, support the company in implementing sustainable practices and initiate collaborations and partnerships within and outside the company.
