

Yiannis Pantazopoulos
Regional Manager
Greece Turkey Cyprus
Air France KLM

Yiannis Pantazopoulos is an accomplished Regional Manager with a deep-rooted passion for aviation, sales, and business development. Throughout his career, he has led teams across multiple regions in several countries, navigating the complexities of global markets while forging strong industry relationships. Currently, he oversees operations for Air France-KLM Delta Air Lines in Greece, Turkey, and Cyprus, ensuring commercial success and strategic growth.

Before stepping into his current role, Yiannis held key leadership positions in major airlines. At Aegean Airlines, he managed commercial operations across Southeast Europe, the Middle East, CIS, and the Nordics. As Sales Director at Olympic Air, he was responsible for global sales strategy, driving revenue and market expansion. His experience also includes a pivotal role at British Airways as Global Manager for Marine & Offshore, where he played a crucial role in developing international business strategies. Also working for SABRE as an account manager enhanced his knowledge and expertise in distribution landscape.

Yiannis holds an MBA in Psychology from Hartford University and has further studies in Computer Network Applications at EL.KE.PA college.

He served as Chairman of the Hellenic Airlines Association (B.A.R.) for four years and is an active member of numerous tourism and aviation organizations.